

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
NATIONAL RESOURCES PLANNING BOARD

WASHINGTON, D. C.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS

PENALTY FOR PAYMENT

AVOID TOO

Miss Ellen H. Thomsen

Thorhampton School

Thorhampton

Massachusetts.

NATIONAL RESOURCES COMMITTEE
NORTH INTERIOR BUILDING
WASHINGTON

Thursday

Dear EH,

This is going to be terribly short, messy and badly typed since some skunk while I was away swiped my typewriter and I now have one with all the keys covered up which makes the seek-that-ye-may-find system definitely hard to operate. Also I know I owe you a long letter but this will have to suffice because, as you will soon understand, I am a trifle snowed under at the moment plus which I am on two cash jobs at once and the house is desperately in need of cleaning.

Anyway I had a beautiful trip back across Iowa by day and fell in love with it. It is populated by lots of little red pigs and I wanted Walter and you to be there too. Then I asked Miller for a vacation-thinking I'd get at least a week and I was going to come and see you and grandma but Miller said "sure take a vacation, take Monday." In that we now work all day Saturday that left me with two days so I flew to Boston Saturday night and had a swell time with the family and most of all DCN. We have decided to announce it officially next Wednesday and this is why the lettered-so you'll know and be able to say I knew it all the time. EH I am so happy I still think it's all a dream and I am going to wake up any minute. I wanted it for so long and just never thought it would happen-ever since he came to Junior prom and I looked went wading and I turned around in the middle of the stream and looked back and realized I was in love with the guy.

I am still idealistically hoping I'll see you to talk to shortly. Saw the Shires in Chicago for dinner-they don't even know Lou's address.

Brittens